

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press.)

North Creek, (AP)—A combination of a wrecked bridge and a plan that called for the ice in the Vermont River made it necessary to transport mail across the stream on a handcart. The ice would hold a man and a small sled but would not support a car or a horse.

Hamilton, (AP)—Blame for the failure of a comparatively large number of students to maintain their scholastic standing during the first semester at Colgate University has been placed on the students themselves by President George Barton Cutten. In a recent address, the president declared that the "rushing season" of fraternities and the football rallies give the freshmen a bad start at the beginning of the year.

Watertown, (AP)—Eight of the 179 pupils who entered high school here this month are only 12 years old.

Watertown, N. Y., Feb. 14 (AP)—The Flower mansion, for many years the home in this city of the late Governor Howell P. Flower, has been sold by the daughter, Mrs. Emma Flower Taylor, to the Jefferson County Board of Supervisors. County officials plan to raise the mansion and erect a modern building as an overflow for county offices housed in the old court house. For the present, however, the building will be used as it now stands for that purpose.

The dwelling was occupied by the Flower family for about 49 years. A large frame building, with three service porches and imposing front, it is one of the snow places of the city. It was the home of Governor Flower when he conducted a jewelry store here and after he became governor it was retained as the family home. After his death, Mrs. Sarah Flower, his widow, continued to live there until her death a few years ago.

Since the death of her mother, Mrs. Taylor has maintained the house, furnished and heated, with a caretaker living there, and the building has been used only occasionally as a meeting place for patriotic societies.

VETERANS ARE THANKFUL FOR COOPERATION.

22-24 East Chatham St., Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 12, 1929.

Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman.

Dear Sir:

Considering that your paper played a big part in heralding the successful minstrel show staged by Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1356, Veterans of Foreign Wars, we wish to thank you for the space granted us, and hope that you will help our feeling of appreciation to the public in the same effective manner that you made the show known throughout Ulster county.

It is felt that through the columns of The Freeman, everyone who helped to make the minstrel a success may be reached, including members of the cast, stage workers, those who donated material or service, patrons and last but not least the merchants, who advertised in the program. It is hoped that members and friends of Joyce-Schirick Post will remember the merchants whenever the opportunity permits.

The overwhelming success of the minstrel prompted the desire to publicly thank all who cooperated in helping to make it so. Neglect to do this would leave a great duty undone, thus we ask your help in making known our appreciation.

Sincerely,
COMMITTEE IN CHARGE,
Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1356, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Grasshoppers as Food

In Tennessee, the bodies of grasshoppers are stripped of legs and wings and are then fried, and when placed upon a platter, look for all the world like a heaped and inviting portion of hot potato chips. But the insect is more palatable than the vegetable—as we are informed.—The Living Age

Couldn't Sleep or Eat, Lost Strength Because of Severe Stomach Distress

Local Man Relates How This Trouble Affected Entire Health, No-Erb Was First Medicine To Help Him.

Dr. French's No-Erb, the great herbal medicine which was recently introduced in Kingston by the No-Erb man at McBride's Drug Store is growing daily in popularity because of its certain action on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels. Every day some person is telling how it corrects digestive disorders, strengthens weak kidneys, rouses a lazy liver, relieves constipation, quiets the nerves or drives rheumatic aches and pains from the system in many cases after everything else had failed. For example, here is the enthusiastic story of Mr. William Post, R.D. No. 1, Kingston, N. Y., who is a well-known employee of the Coraell Steamboat Co.

"I'd get such terrible pains through my stomach after every meal that they almost doubled me up, this I know was caused by gas formations and fermentation of my food and I also suffered from bloating and this gas pressed up against my heart so that at times it almost took my breath away. I was subject to staggering dizzy spells and at these times everything seemed to go black before my eyes. I slept poorly at night and awakened each morning feeling tired and worn out. I also had a very poor appetite and I was a chronic victim of constipation.

"I tried many of the different advertised remedies and plenty of other medicines that I heard about, but nothing ever helped me to any extent until I started using No-Erb. That is only about one month ago, but in that time my stomach has improved so that I am no longer troubled with gas formations, indigestion or those terrible pains. The dizzy spells and floating spots before my eyes have entirely disappeared. Not only that, but this medicine has quieted my nerves, given me a splendid appetite and I sleep soundly all night long. My bowels are more regular as a result of having used No-Erb and I am stronger and more energetic in every way. My advice to anyone who suffers from these troubles is to give No-Erb a chance to help them.

McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for No-Erb. Go see the No-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Since the "Talkies" came, Hollywood is stronger than ever for Old Golds

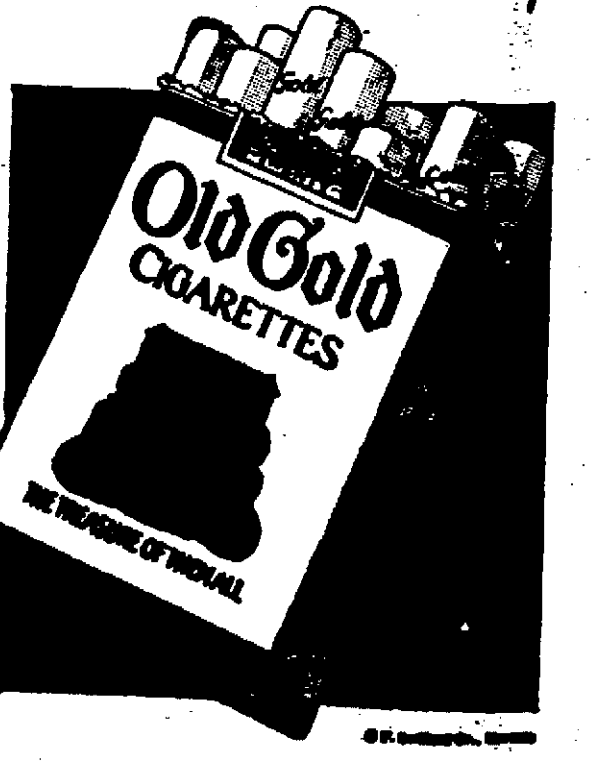

WALLACE BERRY transport pilot No. 3791, now appearing in "Tong War" tells how the movie stars are guarding their throats with OLD GOLDS.

"A year or so ago, Hollywood didn't think much about its vocal chords or its voices. We were all in the silent drama then.

"But the coming of the 'Talkies' has changed things. Lovely stars, leading men, 'heavies' and ingenues are guarding their throats with zealous care... and smoking OLD GOLDS.

"It didn't need the 'Talkies' to win me to OLD GOLDS. I've been smoking them ever since they came to Hollywood, two years ago. But it's an added satisfaction to know they are kind to the voice, when the voice has assumed a new importance!"

A city built for Service

WITHIN this state is a city built for service. Service to the business man, the home dweller—to all of the people in the great state of which it is a part.

This city of 506 buildings, contains nearly 2,500,000 square feet of floor space. It houses hundreds of central offices with their massive, complex switchboards—and scores of business offices, testing bureaus and the other essential units in New York State's great telephone system.

To operate, maintain and enlarge this system, 58,000 workers are necessary. This city built for the service of New York's business and social life must keep on growing. To provide swift, reliable service will be an even greater problem in the future than at present. So much so that in this state, an expenditure of more than $38,000,000 for land, buildings and central office equipment will be required during 1929, and more than $190,000,000 within the next five years.

Y's Men's Club Had Strawberries

Strawberry shortcake is a favorite of a delicacy which the members of the Kingston Y's Men's Club enjoyed at their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Y as for a most satisfying dinner the same day. The strawberries were served with delicious cream. The strawberries were served with delicious cream. The strawberries were served with delicious cream.

The singing also was unusually good under the direction of Tom Rowland with Dan Bittner at the piano. The report of the committee in charge of attending in a body the Y. M. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. showed that a large number of the members turned out to hear their fellow Y's Men and it was the unanimous opinion of the men that it was a fine service and a great sermon.

Plans were completed for the attendance competition between the Y's Men and the Y's Men's Club which will start next week. The large loving cup which was donated by Kiwanian Ben Sushind to be presented to the winning club was an exhibition and it was the unanimous decision of the men that they would win the cup and will make a strenuous effort to keep their resolution.

The entire membership was divided into six teams with the following captains: Clarence Dismar, Arthur Quimby, Tom Rowland, Dr. Julian I.

Officers, Charles Williams and Stanley White. These officers have played their game for 2 and 3 years and are standing for the next time. There is no question but that the Y's Men are in better shape than when they are going to win the contest.

The meeting was turned over to Merton McLoughlin, chairman of the evening's program committee, and incidentally the principal entertainer. The fellow expected a lot from Merton and they were not disappointed as he certainly gave them a most interesting and instructive evening.

Company he took that subject for his address and after explaining the history of the adding machine as a very interesting and instructive manner Merton and his daughter, Miss Josephine, gave a demonstration of rapid calculation on the Burroughs' electric calculator. The way the young lady's fingers flew over the keys was amazing and more so when the correct answer always showed up.

Another very interesting demonstration was the Burroughs' Moon Hopkins combination billing and bookkeeping machine which Merton borrowed from the office of M. H. Herzig and he also borrowed Mr. Herzig's most efficient bookkeeper, Joseph Diehl, who showed the men how he used the machine in his daily work and the tremendous amount of labor it saved.

The talk was thoroughly enjoyed by the men and Merton, Miss Ruth, Joseph Diehl and Mr. Herzig were given a vote of thanks. The entertainment committee for next week will be Harry Riemann, Harry Hutton and Frank "Pop" Hinds. The Misses Davenport will prepare the meal. Several surprises are in store for the men and it is expected the meeting will be the best one the club has ever had.

Attorney Brooks Ill, Case Put Over

After taking a jury Wednesday morning in county court in an action brought by Max Jacobson against Samuel Van Kleeck, an appeal from justice's court, the jury was dismissed and the case put over until April on account of the illness of Frank W. Brooks, attorney for defendant, who was taken ill with an attack of acute indigestion. Arthur D. Ewig appeared for plaintiff.

There was no afternoon session of the court and an adjournment was taken until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Feb. 14 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—Liberal supplies and limited buying have resulted in a dull and weak market on white potatoes at terminals in New York city and Brooklyn. Jobbing sales on Maine Green Mountain potatoes in bulk, reported today at $2.25-$2.50 per 150 pounds. Imported new crop, Bermuda, No. 1 red potatoes peddled out at mostly $3.50 a bushel crate.

Arrivals of state apples were light. Trading was moderate and the market was steady. Western New York U. S. Grade No. 1 2 1/2 inch Rhode Island Greenings brought $5.25-$5.75 per barrel; 3 1/2 inch, $5.50-$7; and 3 inch, $7.50-$8.

Receipts of cut carrots from the western part of the state were limited. The market ruled rather dull with recent sales on 160-pound sacks rarely exceeding $3. New crop, cut stock, medium to small in size, sold at $2.25-$2.75 per sack of 160 pounds.

Supplies of state old crop cabbage were limited. The demand was again light with the market very dull. White Danish in bulk brought $4.50-$5.00 per ton. Red stock seldom showed size or quality attractive enough to command more than $4.00.

New crop Florida cabbage was in moderate receipt. Trading continued light with the market dull and slightly weaker. White, packed in one and one-half bushel hampers, freshments will be served. There wholesale at 55c-$1.25 and red at $2-$2.50.

Offerings of Kleffer pears from this state were limited. The market was irregular with the demand confined to good quality stock. Sales on barreled fruit were made within the full range of $2.50-$7.50 per barrel.

Price changes were few and small on mushrooms. Supplies were lighter and the demand fair. Three-pound baskets of fancy white stock from the Hudson valley realized mainly $1. Consignments from Pennsylvania sold at $1-$1.25.

Arrivals of domestic yellow onions were moderate. Trading continued slow in a rather dull and slightly weaker market. Most sales on middle western No. 1 yellow onions, in carlots, were at $3.50; occasionally $3.65, per 100-pound sack.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Wednesday evening was very strong and very satisfactory with local interference and static. The static grew stronger as the evening advanced. This morning there was a haze part of the time.

Songs of working men the world over form the basis of the Song-Louise which will be presented by the Old Company Singers under the direction of Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, over WEAF and associated N. B. C. stations Sunday, September 17, at 7 p. m. Charles Harrison, Lambert Murphy, Vernon Archibald and Frank Croston comprise the personnel of the Old Company group. Dr. Spaeth himself will feature the old American railroad classic, "Daddy's on the Engine," as well as acting as master of ceremonies. The selections chosen for the program include some excellent examples of Americana, with "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "Work for the Night is Coming," "Water Boy," "Hard Times Come Again No More," and the "Lazy Song." Many of these numbers are negro in origin, and were sung by section hands and levee roustabouts.

Hobbers, feudal castles and an ominous phantom will be brought to life in the "Sword and the Specter" bridge game, by Washington Irving, is presented at 7:30 through the northeastern stations of the National Broadcasting Company.

Studebaker has gone on the air. Starting February 3, the first of a series of weekly broadcasts introduced The Studebaker Champions to radio listeners through a coast to coast hook up of stations associated with the National Broadcasting chain. They will be heard every Sunday evening from 10:15 to 10:45 eastern standard time. The Studebaker Champions are a thirty-piece orchestra led by Jean Goldkette. The classic German love melody, "Still We Die," by Schubert, "As the Night," will be the vibraphone solo featured in the Stromberg-Carlson program of February 10. The program which is given from 8 to 8:30, through stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company includes other romantic numbers. Foster's "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming" is one of the male quartet selections, and a modern love lyric, "Rose in the Bud," will be offered on the guitar. Violin and "sar" solos as well as diversified quartet numbers complete this broadcast.

America Anxious To Hear London Again

A 3,300 mile radio "circuit" is needed to bring London's programs to America, as shown by the above diagram. At Riverhead, L. I., short wave signals are picked up by a multiple antenna (upper right) leading to the temporary laboratory (lower right). From there they go to the NBC studios, where, at lower left, Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith (left), vice president of the RCA, and O. B. Hanson, NBC manager of plant operations, are seen plugging Riverhead into the coast-to-coast network.

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Associated Press Radio Editor)
New York (A).—Given a sample of a London radio program over a coast-to-coast broadcast the United States would like to hear more.

The first attempt at picking up an English station by a complicated chain of radio apparatus and cutting it into numerous American transmitters for their listeners brought telegrams and letters whose contents could be summed up in:

"It was great. When do we hear London again?"

The enthusiasm of the listeners was not shared to as great an extent by the engineers who have been working on the problem of retransmitting England for two years. They were pleased, but said they had hoped to do better, and would bend future efforts toward making overseas music as good as is some distance reception in America.

When the next attempt at rebroadcasting will be made depends entirely upon reception conditions. The first one came on the spur of the moment when static and fading were somewhat less than usual. That it was a surprise to radio possessors may have had something to do with their evident pleasure over the initial London program via a National Broadcasting company network.

If further efforts are to be made in February, the program will be picked up between 4 and 5 p. m., Eastern time. In March the time will be between 5 and 6. Those periods are best for transatlantic reception. Reliable, and according to present plans little if any will be done during the summer.

Days and months of experimental work by engineers of Westinghouse, General Electric and the RCA in association with Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, vice president of RCA, preceded this first program which was graded as 50 in comparison with others that have been heard at times with an efficiency at 50.

Starting into a microphone in Queen's Hall, London, where a symphony orchestra was playing, the music went by telephone wire to the studios of the British Broadcasting Corporation at Savoy Hill. There it was monitored to go by another wire to Chelmsford, site of 5SW, with a power of 10 kilowatts. Amplifiers at the transmitter boosted the signals approximately a million times before they started over the Atlantic on 25.53 meters.

At the RCA experimental receiving station at Riverhead, L. I., London was picked up on a multiple antenna connected to three receivers. Each was cut into a special mixing panel and amplified once more. Three receivers were used to provide the best possible reception.

From the mixing panel, the signals entered a wire leading to the NBC studios 75 miles away. There the program again was monitored before passing into the network made up of 40 stations reaching to the Pacific coast.

Dr. and Mrs. Voss Are in Vienna

Dr. and Mrs. Fred H. Voss of this city, who are touring continental Europe, read with delight the first copy of The Freeman received by the sister leaving home. It was received at the Hotel Regina, Vienna, January 21, according to a letter received here today, with much joy it is the means upon which they are depending for all Kingston and near county news. The paper was sent January 15, so it took it 16 days to go from Kingston to Vienna. In his letter, dated, January 21, Dr. Voss stated that there was much snow in Vienna, where he arrived on the 20th of that month. He is much impressed with the beauty of the city, which is all furnished with fine buildings and attractive parks. One of the things that Dr. and Mrs. Voss enjoyed were skiing contests which they witnessed at Grizing. Aside from enjoying the attractions Europe has to offer, Dr. Voss is continuing an advance study of the medical profession specializing in diseases of the stomach and organs related to it. He is fortunate in being able to study abroad at this time for courses are now being conducted in the university he attends some of the world's greatest specialists. Pathology of the stomach and intestines; special work in X-ray and fluoroscopic interpretations of these cases are among the items receiving the intensive study by Dr. Voss.

Beginning March 18, Dr. Voss will attend the international clinic, concerning diseases of the stomach, to be held at Vienna. This will be conducted by some of the best men in the line of the medical profession. There are many doctors from the United States studying with Dr. Voss, among whom he met a physician who is a personal friend of Dr. George F. Chandler. This made him feel more at home for it linked his connections with good old Kingston. There are also men from New Zealand, India, Australia, England, Canada and other countries taking the same course as Dr. Voss.

He joined the American Medical Association of Vienna, and found that conditions in its headquarters made one feel very much at home. However, Dr. Voss stated that The Freeman is the best medium of getting nearer his home city.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

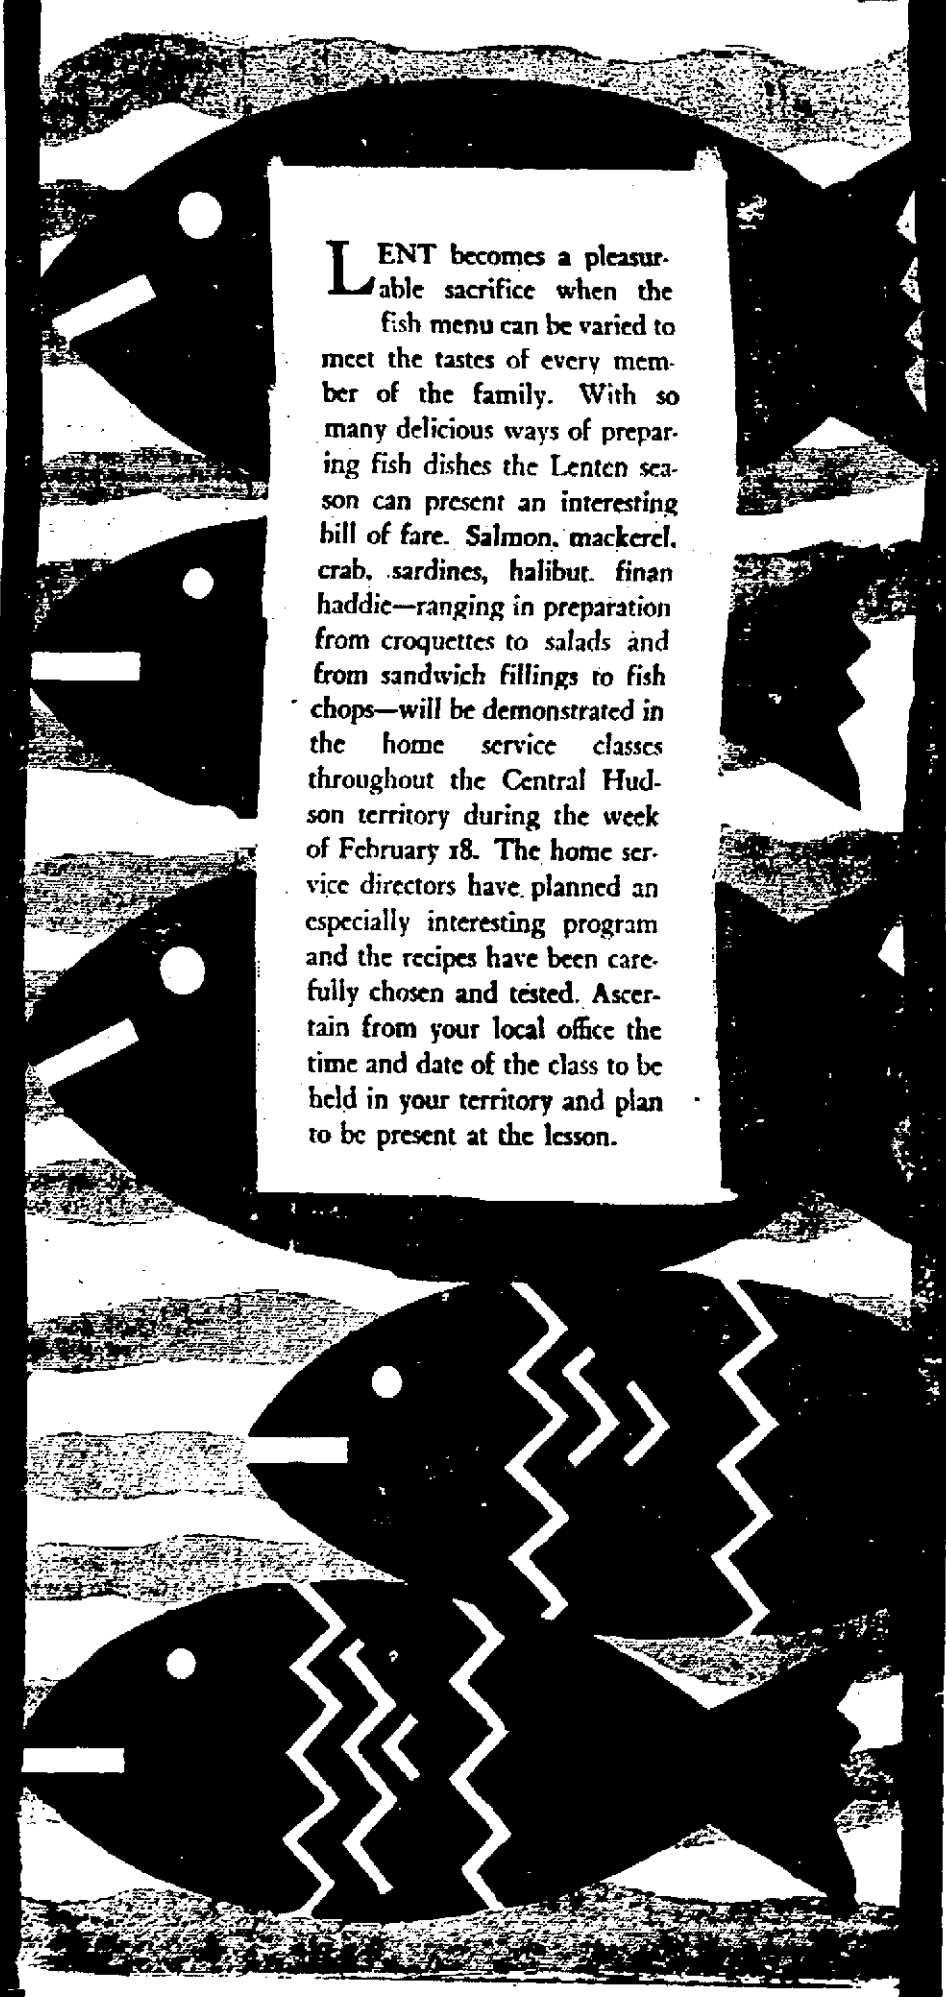

Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CREOMULSION FOR THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

LENT becomes a pleasurable sacrifice when the fish menu can be varied to meet the tastes of every member of the family. With so many delicious ways of preparing fish dishes the Lenten season can present an interesting bill of fare. Salmon, mackerel, crab, sardines, halibut, finnan haddie—ranging in preparation from croquettes to salads and from sandwich fillings to fish chops—will be demonstrated in the home service classes throughout the Central Hudson territory during the week of February 18. The home service directors have planned an especially interesting program and the recipes have been carefully chosen and tested. Ascertain from your local office the time and date of the class to be held in your territory and plan to be present at the lesson.

STRAIGHT RATING A LIGHT DUTY Series

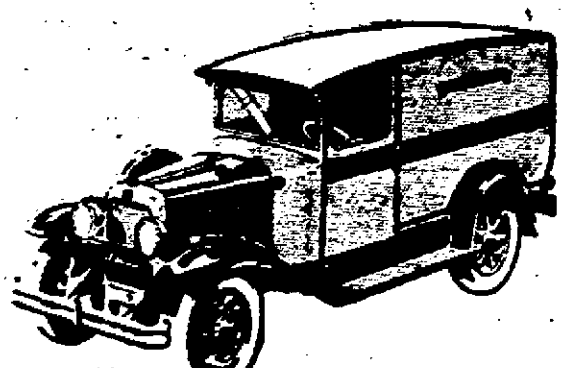

THIS sane, modern method takes equal place and rank with the important "EXTRA VALUE" instead of EXCESS ALLOWANCES" policy.

It removes vagueness and risky guesswork. For any GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK, the maximum allowable total gross weight is given and guaranteed. Exact weight of chassis is given, and of any type of body. These, subtracted from the maximum allowable gross weight plainly and clearly give real pay-load capacity—the capacity which will be most efficiently, therefore most economically, handled by any model equipped with any typebody. You don't take a chance on over loading; on multiplying your guarantee, running up maintenance costs, or short-cutting the truck's life. You don't buy and operate more "capacity" than you need. Knowing just what you need you get it exactly.

GOOD LUCK LAD TO LOSS OF LEG

Young Lecturer Feels Compensated by Friendships
All Over World.

Los Angeles.—To be perfectly whole and to maintain an average percentage of enthusiasm for living is an achievement for most persons. But when a man twenty-three years of age can regard the loss of a leg as a reason for more than ordinary good fortune, and in spite of it can win the description of "the supreme adventurer" from no less a personage than Mueshall, it becomes more than an achievement.

There arrived in this city a few days ago such a young man whose zeal, enthusiasm and whole-hearted love of life in general transcended a mere physical handicap and made him look upon his lot as a wonderful experience in which he has "gotten all the breaks."

Works Way Through College.
Elmer Walter, author, lecturer and wanderer, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs.
Stanley Brooks, No. 1160 Columbia street, Pasadena, incidental to a tour which is taking him to most of the principal cities of the United States.

Left an orphan at fourteen, Walter found it necessary to work his way through high school and college. At high school in Seattle he was cook for a family of four and during the summers his experiences covered everything from work in a Northwest logging camp to laboring in the Tampico oil fields, where he narrowly escaped death at the hands of a gang of bandits.

In 1924 he entered the University of Washington where he was president of the 1928 class, a crew and track man and a student of Phi Beta Kappa ability. His college career was cut short by septic poisoning which developed from a heel blister, and in about two years he started to Honolulu on a voyage of recuperation which ended in a trip of a year and a half around the world, covering about 77,000 miles.

with his foot amputated before leaving Honolulu and 19 operations performed on the afflicted leg during the course of his wandering.

Unusual Experiences.
All this occurred while he worked his way. He tutored English children, did publicity for chambers of commerce, wrote articles for the newspapers and even acted as courier for a party of ten American girls traveling in Europe. Almost every step of his way has been distinguished by unusual experiences and contacts with famous people and he declares that he's had a marvelous time.

"Please don't make a fuss about my leg and the operations," he said. "It doesn't depress me in the least and when you come to think of it, I've really had more good luck than bad.

In some ways I think I've had a better time than if I'd had my two feet.
People all over the world have been fine to me and I have made some wonderful friends."

Walter has recently published a book of his experiences, "The World on One Leg," in which he recounts his adventures from the time he was fourteen until his most recent trip to Europe when he had private audiences with Von Hindenburg, the pope and Mussolini and visited in the home of Lloyd George.

Walter makes his headquarters in New York, although home, he says, is wherever he happens to hang his hat.

Make Reveal the Dress While Concealing the Bust.

New York.—So completely do many of the new hats cover the ears that telephoning has become a problem and even conversation difficult to follow. If the line is raised to reveal the eyebrows, which it has, it has scooped down over the ears and frequently elongated at the back so that one no longer gets even a glimpse of the neck.

Straws at last seem to have a chance for their life. Paton has made something of a success of rough straws, usually in two colors, but the majority of modistes show a marked preference for fine ones which are treated after the manner of felt. Berets and close fitting hats of soft angora wool have retained their winter popularity and are being worn with sports clothes even in semi-tropical climates.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

A Good Style For a School Dress. 6377. A simple practical model, hanging from the shoulders, with a group of planks outlining a shaped pattern that meets a becoming collar. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length or short, above the elbow. The long sleeve is practical and nice in cold weather, while the short sleeve is a favorite too. Wash materials in cotton, rayon and linen are suitable for this style. Flannel, wool crepe and georgette are also suggested. A pleasing development would be in checked gingham with organza for trimming.

The Pattern for this attractive style is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. To make the Dress for a 10 year size will require 2 1/2 yards of 27 inch material if made with long sleeves. With short sleeves 2 1/2 yards are required. To face collar, plastron, cuffs and belt with contrasting material will require 1/2 yard 27 inches wide.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to make the size wanted.

Who else wants new clothes?

"I have used Sunset Soap Dyes since 1919; have never had a failure. Three daughters and myself to clothe make a big problem, but thanks to your Dye Pot our clothing budget is cut in half. I have just completed a redyed crepe silk dress, originally gray. Everybody thinks it is new. I redyed and made over from ladies' coats, five coats for girls. One made a lovely wine color from a faded brown, one a darker green from a faded green, one a warm brown from a faded tan and the other two their original color of light brown redyed to deepen them up.

"Garments practically useless, with a little dye and remodeling make wonderful new garments at very little expense. My girls have three times more than if I had to buy every garment brand new. I have redyed curtains, couch covers, faded cretonnes, washable rag rugs just as satisfactorily as coats and dresses.

"I like your dye because it does not soil the hands or utensils. It is not necessary to rip garments apart, which saves time and patience. I told a friend about Sunset two years ago, she has used it ever since with wonderful results. People here in town will not believe we have redyed the winter coats our girls wear. I am glad to pass my knowledge of Sunset Soap Dyes on."

Lovely Skin Essential Says Movie Director

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—James Cruze, well-known Hollywood director, agrees with 38 other foremost movie directors that a lovely skin is the first requisite of a girl's charm. "Few people can resist the spell of smooth lovely skin," he says.

"Every woman wants beautiful skin, but a star must have it!" Estelle Taylor, famous screen and stage star, says. And like 42 of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, she recommends Lux Toilet Soap for keeping the skin charming. "This white fragrant soap is a boon to me in keeping my skin heavenly smooth," she says.

Nine out of ten screen stars depend on Lux Toilet Soap to guard their lovely skin, and it has been made the official soap in the dressing rooms of all the great Hollywood film studios.

Combinations of such straws as sisal, bakou and balibunt with felt are generally shown, while quilted crepes have standing in every smart millinery shop. While fabric manipulations remain important, discreet introductions of trimming are approved, closely placed feather effects being among those favored.

Navy blue, and blue of other shades as well is more important in millinery today than for several seasons, this, of course, being due to the blue coat vogue. It is, however, by no means necessary that the hat should repeat the color of either coat or dress, the unrelated ensemble being carried into the Spring season. Small shades have carried the smart world by storm, even in the south where enormous straws were the vogue for the past two seasons. (Copyright, 1929, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, Feb. 14.—A father and son banquet for the purpose of promoting Y. M. C. A. work in Woodstock, is now being planned. An efficient committee consisting of one representative from each of the Woodstock Churches has been chosen to carry out the plans.

Woodstock merchants are co-operating in a cash sale, which will be conducted for the next few days at bargain prices. Japanese Crew Of 25 Saved

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 14 (P.)—Twenty-five Japanese, who were rescued from the freighter Meiyu Maru, which it was being grounded to pieces by the storm-washed rocks of the Seattle Islands, were safe aboard the steamer Illinois and the Japanese steamer Nankoh Maru today.

Fragments of messages reaching here last night told of the shooting breeches hoys from the Illinois and the Nankoh Maru to the doomed ship and pulling the crew of the Meiyu Maru to safety, one by one.

In a pounding sea and with the waves working dangerously against the rocks, the buoy lines sagged until their human cargoes dipped in the swirling surf before being hauled to safety.

The Meiyu Maru, a freighter of 1,000 tons, ran aground early Tuesday morning during a storm. Several hours later the Nankoh Maru reached the scene but was unable to effect a rescue because of the ferocity of the sea. All day yesterday the good by until the Illinois arrived. The latter encountered great difficulty in reaching the scene.

At Dutch Harbor the crew of the freighter Alloway was recuperating after having been picked up by the steamer Montauk about 100 miles from the wreck of the Meiyu Maru. Thirty-three men, all but one of the crew, abandoned the Alloway as it seemed about to crash into the rocks of Unimak Pass.

For five days the Alloway's crew had fought the storm and two unsuccessful attempts had been made to tow her to safety. The crew took to the lifeboats at the last minute and found their way to the Meiyu Maru.

One member of the crew, an older named Foley, refused to leave the Alloway. Latest advice here was that the Alloway's anchors were holding her a few yards off the rocks and that Foley was still aboard.

Old Christian Symbol

The fish is considered the oldest symbol of Christianity. When the pagans became Christians they were afraid of being persecuted and got to death by those who still believed in pagan gods; so they invented a secret sign, giving it the form of a fish. When they wanted to make their new belief known to each other and wanted to find out whether the man with whom they associated was pagan or Christian, they drew the sign of the fish in the mud, and if the person responded in the same way, they felt secure to speak of their new faith.

Italian Auto Roads

Automobile roads in Italy are known as "autostrada." Autostrada are not a part of the state highway system, but are owned, controlled and operated by private concerns. The state pays an annuity to the operating companies and they are permitted to impose and collect tolls. Eventually the state will own the roads.

Man Has Operation; Back on Job Again

Memphis, Tenn.—"Sassy Sue," prize hen of Herbert Burns, is back on the job as an "egg a day" after undergoing a "major operation" recently.

Last July "Sassy Sue" suddenly stopped contributing a daily "egg" for her master's breakfast of "ham and—" for which she had become noted.

A poultry specialist at the University of Tennessee veterinary school was called into consultation. "Sassy Sue" had laid an egg in more than a week, and she appeared to be a very sick hen.

"There's just one chance of saving her," the specialist told Burns, "an operation." It seemed serious, but Burns consented and "Sassy Sue" underwent the surgery.

Eight fully developed eggs—four with hard shells and four with soft shells—were removed. "Sassy Sue" was neatly bandaged and put to bed. For days she hovered between life and death.

"Sassy Sue" lived, but weeks went by and she showed no indication of again resuming her old occupation of an egg a day. Then one morning recently she loudly announced she was back on the job.

Heredity Gives Claws to Filipino Family

Manila, P. I.—Claws on fingers and toes is the hereditary misfortune visited upon a family of Filipinos reported by Dr. Leopoldo S. Clemente of the University of the Philippines to the Journal of Heredity for publication in the near future.

The peculiarity apparently arose for the first time in the case of the father, for he is one of three brothers, the other two of whom have normal nails. Married to a normal Filipino woman, he has become the father of a family of nine children, five of whom show the same abnormality. The trait is apparently what students of genetics call a "dominant" and will be handed on, in varying degrees, to the children of the thick-nailed members of the family, while the normal children will not need to fear it.

The peculiarity is a physical as well as a social handicap, Doctor Clemente reports. It makes a normal walking gait difficult, and normal running impossible. The thick toenails cause considerable pain when rapid movement is attempted, and compel the wearing of very wide-toed shoes. When the finger or toenails are to be trimmed they have to be soaked in warm water for an hour before cutting.

Small Swedish Farms

Half the people of Sweden dwell on farms, many of which are under five acres in size.

New Era Began With Power Over Darkness

Among the most notable finds at ancient Ur of the Chaldees in Mesopotamia under the joint auspices of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania are oil lamps of beautiful design dating to nearly 4,000 years before Christ, revealing a civilization older than that of Europe.

"Thus, however far back we are permitted to peer into the dim past," the leader, Mr. Patterson, said, "when men, with the same nature and feelings as we, lived and loved, worked and died, we find him facing the same problems as we do today, in seeking to regulate the light of day which entered his buildings, and to supplement it at night as effectively as his knowledge would permit."

"But from 4,000 years before Christ to 1890 A. D., close to 6,000 years, that knowledge took him no further than the use of a 'wick dipped in oil, or later, of the candle made from natural oil and fat. But with the beginning of the last century a new era began, an era in which dawned the possibility of unlimited light during the hours of natural darkness."

Snakes in Captivity Turn Into Cannibals

Pythons, many of them 15 feet long, who are among the guests of the London Zoo, spend most of their time submerged in the water of the moat surrounding the enclosure. A few of the inhabitants of the park, especially the cubs, become cannibals, and attack and devour not only various harmless species, but also some of their most poisonous relations. Even puff-adders have been recorded as falling victims.

to the cobra's viciousness and voracity. Mr. MacSweeney, the curator of the Fort Elizabeth museum, states that a cobra versus puff-adder contest may last as long as an hour, and that the latter does not give in to his more agile adversary until the effects of the injected venom of his enemy have induced complete paralysis. Not long ago a keeper, in the course of moving some of the snakes in the enclosure, was bitten on the hand by a large puff-adder. A special serum kept on the premises was immediately injected into the victim, and his life saved.

Why Get Mad?

At Camp Grant, during the war, the officers had difficulty in getting the proper salutes from the men. Lecture followed lecture, but apparently to no avail.

A negro private met a captain one morning and greeted him with "Howdy, boss."

Followed a long tirade from the captain on the correct way to salute. The buck private listened in silence, scratched his head, and finally said:

"Lawdy, boss, if Ah'd thought you was twice git so mad about it, Ah wouldn't of spoke to you a-tall."—From the Bulletin of Naval Post, American Legion.

Where Whispers Travel

The best known "whispering galleries" are the dome of St. Paul's cathedral in London, Statuary hall in the Capitol, Washington; the nave in the Salle des Carulindes in the Louvre, Paris; the church of St. John Lateran, Rome; the ear of Dionysius at Syracuse, and the cathedra of Girgenti in Sicily.

"Put this down too—"

HERE we have a housewife who has learned the money-saving possibilities of ad reading. You too, will find that a little time spent in reading the ads each day will save many useless steps --- hours of your time and energy as well as that commodity which most vitally concerns you—your money.

Reading the various announcements of Kingston's merchants each day in The Freeman keeps you well posted on what TODAY'S market affords and this knowledge enables you to make those timely purchases that tend to keep down household expenses—it helps to make your dollars more productive, which is, in reality, saving money.

100,000 Fire At Plattsburg

Plattsburg, N. Y., Feb. 14 (AP).—A fire broke out early today in the rear of the M. H. Fishman store, burning the entire block and also the warehouses before it was extinguished. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

Sea of Modern Ship Traced to Egyptians

Shipbuilding had its birth on the banks of the Nile, according to the latest issue of the London Magazine. Although, he says, at a very early period in the history of mankind logs and rafts of various kinds were used to carry people to cross narrow sheets of water or for paddling along coasts, the real history of boat building began when the earliest dwellers on the banks of the Nile tied together bundles of reeds to make floats. These simple craft not only deterred the form of the wooden ships that succeeded them, but the methods of construction for making the reed boats, i. e., tying them together with cords, were also adopted when wooden ships came to be built by adding planks to the hollowed-out logs which eventually degenerated into the mere keel of the composite ship. Thus the earliest Egyptian term for shipbuilding was the word signifying "to bind," and at the present time we still find upon the Nile all these primitive types that are survivals of phases in the history of shipbuilding, some of them more than sixty centuries old.

South Africa's Day
December 16 in South Africa is Dingaan's day and is a day of thanksgiving among the Boers. Dingaan was the king of the Zulus and it was on December 16, 1838, that he and his warriors were put to rout after several bloody battles.

Crew and Plane Reported Safe

Washington, Feb. 14 (AP).—J. T. Tripp, president of Pan-American Airways, telephoned the Associated Press this morning that he had received a radio message from the amphibian Sikorsky plane missing since it left Miami yesterday morning, and that the crew and plane were safe.

Mr. Tripp said he received his message at 5:11 o'clock this morning, and that it came from Floyd S. Wadsworth, mechanic on the plane. Wadsworth reported that the airplane was forced down when it ran out of gas and that it floated to Red Bay at the north end of Andros Island. Wadsworth procured a boat there and went to Nassau where he sent his message.

The plane left Miami to aid in the search for the plane of Stephen Calloway, who was afterwards found by a passing ferry boat.

Out of Sight
Nine-year-old Joe had challenged his mother to a game of hide and seek at his grandmother's country cottage and, of course, mother was it. She counted up to a hundred by fives, shouted "Here I come!" in orthodox fashion and began hunting. She searched every nook and cranny and peered behind every tree and shrub, but no boy, so at last she was forced to call "Home free!" When Joe appeared she was very curious to know where he had been hiding, so successfully. "That was a cinch!" declared the youngster, "I just climbed up the windmill!"

Lenten Services At St. Mary's

An unusually large number observed the beginning of Lent by attending the evening services in St. Mary's Church on Ash Wednesday. The church was so crowded that seats were not available for all and many had to stand throughout the services. A very appropriate sermon on "The Penance of Our Lord Jesus Christ" was preached by a Rev. Mr. Fisher, who will speak at the Wednesday evening service in St. Mary's church on the Lenten season. The topic for next week is "The Agency of Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane." Sunday evening services will also be held at St. Mary's throughout the Lenten period. The topic for this Sunday is "The Ideal of Humility." Sunday services start at the same hour as on Wednesday, 8 o'clock. Week-day Masses are offered at 7 and 8:15 a. m. with special instructions for the school children after the later Mass on Wednesdays and Fridays. Stations of the Cross are read every Friday at 3:30 and 8 p. m. A novena of grace is to be conducted at St. Mary's from March 4 to March 12.

Pancake Supper a Success.
The pancake supper given at the parish house of St. John's Church Tuesday evening was a great success and was attended in large numbers by the members of the parish. It is intended to make this event an annual affair.

RURAL REFORMED CHURCH SERVICES, FEB. 17.

Financial and Commercial
New York, Feb. 14 (AP).—The stock market drifted lower today on selling inspired by bearish commission house advices and the growing uneasiness over the possibility of an early increase in Federal Reserve discount rates. Early issues of 2 to nearly 12 points in the active issues were cut down, and in a few cases made up, by the mid-day rally, but the higher prices failed to hold and the market turned soft again in the early afternoon.
The rise in bankers' acceptance rates yesterday was interpreted in some quarters as foreshadowing a rise in the discount rate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, directors of which met after the close of the market. Some bankers doubt that such action will be taken at this time because of the belief that it would nullify the recent action of the Bank of England in raising its rate in order to check the flow of gold from London to New York.
Call money renewed at 6 1/2 per cent, but was available in the outside market at 6. Time money rates, however, continued firm around the highest levels in years.
Case Threshing, which dropped 22 points last week, sold 25 points above its previous quotation. Marine preference and Island Creek Coal moved into new high ground on talk of special development American & Foreign Power, Johns Manville, St. Joseph Lead and Canadian Pacific made up their early losses of 3 to 6 points in the mid-day rally, the first named touching a new high at 117 1/2, and Radio, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, General Electric, Electric Auto Lite and Westinghouse Electric made substantial recoveries from their low levels in the mid-day rally, but fresh offerings appeared on the bulge.
Adams Express, A. M. Byers, American Telephone, National Bellas Hess, Kennecott Copper, U. S. Realty, Montgomery-Ward and Sears Roebuck sold down 4 to 6 points, and showed little recuperative power.
Quotations given by Parker McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York City, branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

Wanted Material for Milady's Spring Outfit

Strikingly mannish, yet not without the touch of femininity, this interesting model, a two-piece suit in worsted, is promised for a spring leader in women's wear.

Waists Tighter; Skirts Longer and Slinkier
The newest frocks look as if they must be put on with a shoehorn, observes a fashion correspondent in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Narrow hips, snug sleeves and billowy skirts are exhibited in the shops here with enthusiasm. There is, however, nothing particularly original in the new styles.
For a time the princess mode (the slipped to waistline) tried to stage a comeback. This was pushed into the background by the swathed hips and the basque effect at the waist.
This way and that sways fashion, and so do skirts. Longer and slinkier and beruffled they have become until it is evident that coats, too, will have to take a new turn in order to provide some sort of covering for the trailing, fluttering skirt lengths.
Probably the most noticeable trend in evidence along the style highways was the bustle back skirt. Frocks in taffeta, tulle and satin are especially adaptable to the bustle, but there are some stylists who regret this return to an unbecoming, awkward looking feminine silhouette.
The ladies' Sargent liked to paint, in bouffant skirts and snug little waists, are the criterion for the latest in evening gowns. Faint, pastel colors, decorated by dainty sprigs of flowers, appear on the smartest gowns. This type of frock is to be worn with a "demure air," thus registering the fact that midday has turned her eyes again to being ultra-feminine.

Full-Fashioned Hosiery Affords That Snug Fit
To wear becoming hosiery is quite as important as the becomingness of the hat. A trim fit is absolutely necessary, and this is attained by wearing full-fashioned hosiery. When selecting stockings, make sure they are long enough to be comfortable, and there must be sufficient width above the knee to insure a snug fit without any strain. The full-fashioned stocking will give the desirable snug fit at the ankle.
The shape of the reinforcement, also, determines the becomingness of hosiery. The single pointed heel is slenderizing, especially from a back view, and the double pointed heel gives the slenderizing appearance from a profile view of the ankle. When the reinforcement is too low and wide, it gives a heavy, angular line to the ankle, which is not pretty.
Unless you have perfect ankles, beware of the heel contrasting in color. This is difficult to wear, for the contrast in color draws attention to ankles that are not perfect.

Little Jacket Having Its Day of Popularity
Little jackets have attained a very important place in the newest evening fashions. They made their first appearance as cocktail jackets, to serve as a convenience when evening functions began early, without time to change from afternoon frocks to evening dresses. Soon after that they came into prominence as dinner jackets, when they began to accompany dance frocks to dinner. And now, even the most elaborate formal evening gowns are likely to be worn with a short glittering jacket.

Unembellished Fabrics Conspicuous by Absence
The unembellished materials are conspicuous today by their absence. Take the lace, for example. Lace never was more popular for evening frocks, for negligees and for lingerie, yet most of the latest now are worn or so treated as to give them a different appearance than when they came from the lace-maker's pillow. Lace is a feature even of the winter fashions and of the knickers which keep out the cold blasts.
Aid in Appearance
First aid to appearance or "stroke" consists in loosening the clothing about the chest and neck, keeping the head slightly elevated and applying cold to the head and back to the feet. Summon a physician as soon as possible.

Dog Needs "Balanced" Diet to Keep Healthy
Most dogs are just as dependent upon simple, wholesome, nourishing fare as people are. If they are fed a lot of greasy stuff, or quantities of candy, they will get sick. On the other hand, practically every one will thrive on plenty of lean meat, either raw or slightly cooked; fresh fish, a fair amount of cereal, some thoroughly boiled green vegetables. Supplement this diet with a few pieces of crumbled stale white bread; and two or three times a week give the dog a good-sized fresh beef bone from the butcher. Never let him have poultry bones, though, or any other kind that breaks into sharp shivers.
And here is another point; mix the different kinds of food very thoroughly. This will prevent the picking out of particularly choice tidbits and the leaving of the rest. One great value of the foods recommended is that they constitute a nicely balanced diet, so your dog ought to eat all of them.

Sam Pops Satisfied With "Plan-Partridge"
The Christmas plan partridge is an English national dish of comparatively recent date, for the old Samuel Pops, noted diarist and gourmet of the seventeenth century, knew it not. Inspection of his memorable record reveals that the year before the great fire, in 1666, he wrote:
"Used by my wife's bedside with great content, having a mess of brave plan-partridge and a roasted parrot."
However, the "plan-partridge" must have been the forerunner of the modern plan partridge. It was made of strong beef broth, in which were stewed currants, raisins and dates, which were charged with bread crumbs, highly spiced and stuffed with wine.

Funeral of Charles A. Formoso
The funeral of Charles A. Formoso, aged 69, formerly of Kingston, will be held in New York City, where he lived as a retired policeman with his wife and nine children, Saturday. A requiem mass will be offered for the repose of his soul at Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church. Interment will be in Holy Cross cemetery. Mr. Formoso before he joined the New York police force, conducted a fruit and peanut business in partnership with the late John Dondoro on North Front street, near Crown, in this city. When he left Kingston his share was taken over by Joseph Cusco. Mr. Formoso, who was born in Italy and came to this country in his infancy, was the first Italian to become a police inspector in New York City after working up from the ranks of New York's finest, which he joined in 1888. In 1895 he became a detective sergeant. That year he distinguished himself by arresting Cadigan, a "gold brick" man, who was about to swindle an English peer of $25,000. He became a captain in 1902 and an inspector in 1910. Commissioner Arthur Woods reduced him to captain in 1915 and sent him to the Rockaway Beach station. Commissioner Richard E. Enright reappointed him inspector in 1918, to succeed Frank Tricker. He was dismissed by Commissioner Enright July 18, 1924, and placed on a $2,450 a year pension.

This became such a nuisance that all telephone calls to his home were watched and one of the offenders was traced.

Central Hudson Will Centralize
Proposed Changes Will Affect Only a Small Number of Employees in the Accounting Department, With Practically No Changes in Location of Construction Personnel.
The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation announced today that it has under consideration plans for the centralization of its accounting and construction operations in the near future. The proposed changes are in the interest of better efficiency and more effective service to its customers, and will affect only a small number of employees in Newburgh, Kingston and Poughkeepsie. Practically no changes in the location of personnel are planned in connection with the changes in the construction department, the move being chiefly the centralization of supervision and control, leaving the field forces located throughout the company's territory as at present.
The centralization of the company's billing operations will mean the moving of a small number of employees to a central location, that full advantage may be taken of modern and efficient machine operation. These changes are being planned in connection with the development of the organization for the most effective service to the company, and it is expected that they will result in the elimination of delay and will give the company the opportunity to render a more satisfactory service.

Benedictine Ball Workers Busy

That the Benedictine Ball to be held at the armory on Easter Monday night will be a marked success, is forecast by the work being done by the various committees appointed to prepare for the big social event.

Those in charge of the ball this year expect to see one of the largest gatherings at the armory that the big drill shed has ever welcomed.

The people in charge of seating arrangements are making plans to seat a record attendance and those in charge of booking entertainment will have one of the most novel programs ever offered, it is said.

Members of the ticket committee are giving great consideration to the matter of distributing them throughout the county in order that all may get tickets without inconvenience.

The decoration and refreshment committees are also busy and they expect to put over their part in fine style.
